LOPPIANO, ITALY

AZUR is one of the most established baby furniture companies in Italy. The brand is synonymous with quality, style and creativity. Each piece is hand crafted and hand painted making the Azur collections one of a kind.

AZUR continues to create successful collections, and innovative products. Examples of the unique designs include the Bath/Dresser combo, the "Oblò" (peep window) Crib and the adjustable Highchair that have made a large impact on the ever-changing market.

AZUR Headquarters

The secret of their success is the caring nature of the staff and the special attention on the beauty, function and safety of every product that will eventually reach a child.

Azur was born in the green Chianti hills of Loppiano, Florence, the international centre of the Focolare Movement.

AZUR stands for the word "azzurro", blue in Italian, which, like the blue sky, conveys a sense of harmony and beauty. This name was chosen in 1967 by the founder of the Focolare Movement, the late Chiara Lubich (www.focolare.org).

Quality

Products with the brand name AZUR are all made with carefully selected materials. Within each phase of production there are procedures followed to ensure that each item has met the high quality standards. The choice of resistant materials, precautions taken during the coloring phase, and utilizing nontoxic water-based paints, AZUR makes products designed to support the wellness of your growing baby.

Although this attention to detail requires added expenses, such awareness ensures the wellbeing and health of your child, creates a more secure and healthy work setting all while providing protection to the surrounding environment. AZUR is equipped with advanced machinery which permits recovery of all remaining paint residue, avoiding unnecessary contamination and emissions into the environment, guaranteeing full security to workers involved in the process.

The products of the AZUR collections are highly functional, easy to clean and simple to assemble and disassemble. Quality control is carried out in all stages of fabrication and is maintained on a daily basis. Each piece is examined by experienced personnel with the greatest attention to detail eliminating all flaws.

Faithful to one of the company's mottos, "There are those who do things out of love," AZUR tries to communicate this saying by increasing the attention to detail in their styles and designs, continually increasing safety and always committing to nothing but the very best quality.

To AZUR the artistic aspect is what makes the brand unforgettable, the respect for the environment is what makes them unique and the relationships they create with the community is what makes them distinguished.

Handcrafted

Since the start of Azur, teams of skilled craftsman have produced unique works of art. Each piece is separately cut and hand painted making your child's bedroom truly one of a kind.

The originality of the airbrush characters produce an enchanting setting where children's imagination can come to life and stories and memories can be made. The unique beauty and innocence of each piece helps develop a child's curiosity for their surroundings.

All paint is strictly non-toxic.
